

The Colonnette

Milledgeville, Ga., July 10, 1942

42 Graduate Tuesday

Corner Column

Congratulations to the Copelands on the birth of a baby daughter. Dr. Copeland passed Baby Ruth's to his classes in honor of the occasion...That was a real thought-provoking talk Miss Bancroft made in chapel Monday. We must confess, we don't think Dean Taylor was too pessimistic in his closing remarks...Along War Lines, one good way to buy Defense Stamps is to save pennies. You'd be surprised how they add up... The Colonnette extends sympathy to Mrs. Wallace in the death of her father this week...Mrs. Martin is setting a swell example in Victory Gardens.

Jewell B. Lanier and Colleen O'Brian have joined the Air Corps...For the coinage of the word Idiosyncrazys, a bouquet to Mr Massey...We don't like all the fuss and feathers that go with graduation. At least during war times, couldn't we dispense with so much ceremony?...Here is a cute jingle: God gave us ears (I thought He said Beers); I asked for two big ones. God gave us noses (I thought He said roses); I asked for a large red one. God gave us looks (I thought He said books); I didn't want any. God gave us brains (I thought He said trains); I missed mine. Ain't I a mess!...Our Journalism class visited the Union Recorder Tuesday. We still have a lot to learn...Mike McDowell really puts feeling into music.

BUY BONDS AND STAMPS!

by B.M.

After working for years, checking and rechecking from the Dean's office, the Registrar's office, and the Heads of Departments, begging or borrowing that "5-spot", 42 students will bid farewell to us before the ink is dry on the last page of their exam papers.

The thoughts that will invade the minds of some of the grads, as they swelter in the July heat under their stately caps and are probably:

"Gee but I'll be glad when this is over. Wonder if I'll make the bus."

"This means $5 a month added to my salary, even if it did cost a couple of thousand."

"What is the matter with me? Thought this would be a bigger moment than high school graduation."

"Guess now that I'm a 'college woman' I suppose I'll be swamped with good offers for jobs."

"I hope my superintendent is satisfied I have this degree. But I'll teach next year just like I did last."

"Now that I've had methods of reading, I intend to pass up a class that CAN read."

"I wonder what my mom is thinking, out there in the audience."

"Wish Jim hadn't had to go off to the army. Be nice to have him here today."

"Wake up! The speaker has finished. That was a fine talk and your name is being called. Graduation is over. All but the shouting."

Proctor W. Maynard, a consultant in the Office of Price Administration, addressed the student body of the Georgia State College for Women Friday morning, July 10.

LOST AND FOUND

Miss Mary Dimon, Personnel head, has charge of the Lost and Found bureau. If you should lose, or find, anything, please turn it in to her. She has a queer assortment of articles ranging from coats to glasses. Perhaps some of them belong to you. Why don't you call by her office in Parks Hall and see?

by C.J.D.

Are you keeping up with Time -- the magazine, I mean? It provides grand reading on the war and takes practically no time to skim through.

"The Girls Did Well by Hitler," an article by Countess Waldeck in the July 11th Saturday Evening Post, offers a new angle on Schicklegruber's "sex appeal for his feminine followers equaled only by Valentino."

Readers' Digest kept pace with the other mag's this month, sporting Old Glory on its cover. It offers a 4* article, "The Heroic Defense of the Philippines," by Lt. Col. Clear, USA, an authority on the Japanese army and Bataan eyewitness.

In the fiction field, if you haven't had time to read A.J. Cronin's The Keys of the Kingdom, the July Ladies' Home Journal has it condensed "for busy readers" -- complete in this issue.

To clear your befuddled brain before or after exams, take a look at the First Autumn Fashions (especially the hats!) in the July 15th issue of Vogue.

Important Matters

I passed my course
(That awful one)!
Was I filled with elation!
But oh, gee whiz
That task ahead--
I mean - that graduation!

SPORT RACKETS

by C.B.

"Everybody should get out of those hot, stuffy rooms and do a little swimming!" exclaims Miss Frances Bennett of the Physical Ed Department. Take her advice and run for the pool! It is open for all students and faculty, even the men -- from 5 to 6 every afternoon. And from 4:30 to 5:30 on Saturday. There are still a few afternoons left this session and plenty in the next. Dive in!

Every afternoon from 4 to 5 in the gym, Miss Bennett conducts a folk dancing class. Here's your chance to learn the Polka, have lots of fun and get good exercise.

Don't forget 'waltz time' on the roof garden every night after supper. It is one of the best ways to help you forget those classes tomorrow and it really puts you in the groove.

GSCW should be playing for health. Let's make use of available play equipment. There is something for everyone to do.
